

first WASC school district to gain accreditation for all its schools, achieved nine consecutive clean financial and compliance audits, removed four of its seven special compliance conditions imposed by the USDOE, founded its first K-5 CHamoru language immersion program, created vital credit recovery programs for Guam's two success academies, established a new Tiyan High School, expanded Okkodo High School, and renovated Untalan Middle School. Outside of improved standards and instruction, he has also spearheaded the integration of technology and STEM in the classroom, expansion of programs that promote college and career readiness, and a bolstered school-based behavioral health support system while securing accolades such as two MagPro Best Government Large Agency of the Year awards, three Pika's Best Government Agency of the Year awards, and the 2019 Professor John M. Phillips Excellence in Government Accountability Award. Moreover, amid the unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, Superintendent Fernandez catalyzed comprehensive community support to include launching school meal and community feeding sites, implementing distance learning, ensuring safe practices and protocols in all schools, mobilizing vaccination clinics for employees and students, and pushing for students to return to the classroom.

Beyond these organizational triumphs, Superintendent Fernandez further realized historic personal achievements. In addition to holding the titles as both GDOE's longest-serving superintendent since World War II and the nation's longest-tenured Chief State School Officer, he is the first superintendent from Guam to serve as Commissioner for the Accrediting Commission for Schools (WASC) and be elected to the Board of Directors of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Madam Speaker, I rise on behalf of the People of Guam, offering my greatest appreciation to Superintendent Jon J. P. Fernandez for over ten years of invaluable service to generations of students and their families. His resolve to stand up quality education and youth support systems, advance departmental and interagency collaborations, and cultivate meaningful connections at the intersections of education, community, and civic involvement has transformed the foothold of our collective progress and continues to inspire many throughout our island, and I wish him and his family the best during the next chapter of their lives.

HON. JOHN H. RUTHERFORD

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mr. RUTHERFORD. Madam Speaker, I was unavailable, and I missed the following roll call votes.

Had I been present, I would have voted: yea on rollcall No. 257; and nay on rollcall No. 267.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF CLELA ROREX

HON. JOE NEGUSE

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mr. NEGUSE. Madam Speaker, I rise today in remembrance of a proud Coloradan, a champion for equality and a beacon of hope in our community, Clela Rorex, who passed away on June 19, 2022.

Clela served her state honorably as the Clerk & Recorder for Boulder County from 1975 to 1977. Early in her tenure, in 1975, she became the first county clerk in the nation to issue a marriage license to a same-sex couple. And in so doing, she changed the lives of countless families across the country. Clela firmly believed in equality under the law, and was a proud champion for justice and inclusion, believing that every American's freedom to live without fear of discrimination must be protected.

Clela was truly a pillar in our community and a symbol of hope for families across our country. My thoughts and prayers are with her family and all those who knew and loved her.

As we mourn her passing, we will remember her life and be inspired by her devotion to making this world a better place.

HONORING THE SACRIFICES OF CUSTOMS AND BORDER PROTECTION PERSONNEL

HON. JOHN KATKO

OF NEW YORK

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mr. KATKO. Madam Speaker, the mission of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) is broad and diverse. The more than 60,000 men and women of CBP protect our borders at and between our ports of entry. They protect Americans against terrorists and the instruments of terror. They enforce our laws and help boost our economic security and prosperity by facilitating trade and travel. While the roles they play each day may differ, the men and women of CBP share one common goal: to keep our country a safe, secure, and resilient place where the American way of life can thrive. They provide selfless service to our country, and they do so with honor and distinction under an ever-present and evolving threat. I wish to pay tribute to the agents, officers and employees who have given the ultimate sacrifice in the service of our Nation by honoring 37 courageous men and women of CBP who have died in the line of duty. Today we commemorate these brave men and women, celebrate their lives, and offer their families and loved ones our continued support. ### COMMEMORATING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE VERMONT INSTITUTE OF NATURAL SCIENCE (VINS) IN QUECHEE, VERMONT

HON. PETER WELCH

OF VERMONT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mr. WELCH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the outstanding work and enduring impact of the Vermont Institute of Natural Science (VINS) in Quechee, VT. I would also like to congratulate them as they celebrate their 50 Year Anniversary. Since their opening in October of 1972, VINS has served as a pillar of the community, educating Vermonters on the beautiful wildlife in our state and what we can do to conserve it. The organization and its staff have shown a remarkable commitment to research, conservation and education.

The genesis of VINS can be traced back to David Laughlin, who spearheaded a study of the Ottauquechee River in central Vermont. The river was found to be badly polluted by waste and runoff. Joining Dr. Laughlin's efforts were his wife Sally Laughlin, Rick Farrar, and June McKnight. The group's efforts ultimately led to the first water quality litigation in the state of Vermont. The group built on the momentum from the victorious river cleanup, remaining vigilant in their commitment to preserving the river's future. Their brainstorming culminated into the idea to establish an environmental organization aimed at educating young children. Thus, came the Vermont Institute of Natural Science in 1972.

Since its founding, VINS' mission has stressed education as a critical tool in changing perspectives and maintaining a healthy environment. Early on, Sally Laughlin led the charge to establish a bird-banding project with the help of her experienced colleague, Rick Farrar. The bird banding program, educational activities, and the river clean-up, established VINS as a critical Vermont institution.

Today, VINS is defined by its environmental and education focus at the VINS Nature Center, with 35 exhibit and education raptors utilized in daily live education programs from a trained educator's hand; the Forest Canopy Walk and Outdoor Classroom; the ADA trail network; VINS School Programs, which reach 3,400 students and 600 teachers each year; the Adventure Playscape; and the Center for Wild Bird Rehabilitation. The rehabilitation center treats injured birds found throughout the state with the eventual goal of releasing them back into the wild. The center treated a record of 1,098 birds last year alone. Those birds which cannot be released safely are kept at VINS' Nature Center as "ambassadors" for their species to help educate curious visitors.

As Executive Director Charles Rattigan takes VINS into its next 50 years, the institute remains a sought-after destination for visitors and residents of Vermont and the Upper Valley. This year alone, over 69,000 visitors passed through its gates to learn about raptors, native species and the environments in which they live. Curious people of all ages learned how to actively care for our natural world, helping to fulfill VINS' crucial mission of motivating individuals and communities to care for their environment. I want to recognize VINS for its passionate commitment to education, research and avian wildlife rehabilitation. VINS continues to be an influential steward of the natural world, in Vermont and beyond.

INTRODUCTION OF H. RES. 1086

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mr. HIGGINS of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise today to speak on the importance of commemorating the 50th anniversary of U.S.-Bangladesh relations. In my district, my hometown of Buffalo, New York hosts a significant Bangladeshi population that contributes to Buffalo's rich cultural diversity and helps the city live up to its moniker as the City of Good Neighbors. I am proud to be representing the more than 10,000 Bangladeshi constituents in my district, and recently introduced H. Res. 1086 honoring the 50th anniversary of U.S.-Bangladesh relations.

The United States recognized the independence of Bangladesh on April 4, 1972. Since then, our two nations have cooperated on a myriad of issues, including the protection of Rohingya refugees fleeing genocide, the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic, and the continuation of a peaceful and inclusive Indo-Pacific region.

The past thirty-five years have witnessed an influx of Bangladeshi immigrants to the United States, making the group the fastest growing Asian-American population in the country. In Buffalo, these individuals have established vibrant communities all over the city, with a specific concentration on the East Side including the neighborhoods of Broadway-Fillmore, Genesee Moselle, Fillmore-Leroy, and Kensington. Members of the Bangladeshi community have started businesses, are renovating vacant homes, and are enriching the fabric of our region through their cultural contributions.

The Bangladeshi population has made it a priority to foster a sense of community and cultural identity among its members. It has founded organizations such as the Bangladesh Society of Buffalo and the Buffalo Bangla Newspaper with this particular goal in mind. Furthermore, the ranks of Bengali-speaking students enrolled in Buffalo Public Schools have continued to swell, and I am grateful to see to this cross-cultural cooperation in our city.

I look forward to welcoming further Bangladeshi immigrants to the United States and continue to admire the unique perspectives and experiences they bring to our nation. Madam Speaker, I am grateful to express my deep appreciation for the long-standing relationship and cooperation between the United States and Bangladesh.

SUPPORTING SENATE AMENDMENTS TO THE HOUSE AMENDMENT TO S. 2938

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Mrs. CAROLYN B. MALONEY of New York. Madam Speaker, with the passage of the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act, Congress has come together to address the deadly gun violence epidemic that has plagued our communities and the innocent children in them for far too long. The Act will finally codify enhanced background checks for individuals under 21, fund mental health and school safety, provide incentives for states to implement "red flag" laws, limit the "boyfriend loophole" and prohibit the straw purchasing and trafficking of firearms—a provision that I have worked on for over a decade. This legislation represents one of the most significant steps Congress has taken to reduce gun violence in nearly 30 years. The American public and its children will be safer because of the passage of this groundbreaking bipartisan bill and the legacy of this legislation will resonate for years to come.

IN RECOGNITION OF HELEN PRATHER

HON. RASHIDA TLAI

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Ms. TLAI. Madam Speaker, today I want to recognize and celebrate Ms. Helen Prather, a long-time resident of Detroit in Michigan's 13th Congressional District as she celebrates a milestone, her one hundred fifth birthday.

Born in 1917, Ms. Prather was one of ten siblings in her close-knit family. She grew up in the heart of Detroit near Grand River. In her youth and throughout her life, Ms. Prather was a tireless fighter for advancement and protection of civil rights. She was also especially proud of her long career in social services, from which she retired at the age of eighty-eight.

Ms. Prather has always valued her family life. She raised her children in Detroit alongside her dear husband Joseph, to whom she was happily married for more than sixty years until his death in 2005. Ms. Prather has been an anchoring presence in her family, remaining steadfast in her love for her multigenerational family, which includes her grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great grandchild.

Ms. Helen Prather is truly cherished by her family, friends, and neighbors. Please join me in wishing her a very happy birthday, surrounded by love and light.

TRIBUTE TO THE 2022 STANLEY CUP WINNERS COLORADO AVALANCHE

HON. DIANA DeGETTE

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 1, 2022

Ms. DeGETTE. Madam Speaker, I rise today, along with my colleagues: Congressman Ed PERLMUTTER, Congressman KEN BUCK, Congressman JOE NEGUSE, Congressman JASON CROW, and Congresswoman LAUREN BOEBERT, to recognize the best team in U.S. hockey, the Colorado Avalanche. We make this tribute after the Avalanche clinched the 2022 Stanley Cup with their Game 6 victory over the Tampa Bay Lightning on Sunday, June 26, 2022.

For fans of the Colorado Avalanche, who have patiently waited for more than 20 years to see our favorite team triumphantly raise the Stanley Cup again, the journey to Sunday night's victory has been long but worth the wait. We have watched this team battle through setbacks and injuries with admirable grit and determination, culminating this year in a 16-4 post-season record and a well-deserved trophy.

To secure their spot in the Stanley Cup Finals, the Avalanche overcame formidable teams, including their Western Conference challengers the Edmonton Oilers, who they swept in four games to advance to the Finals. There, they defeated the two-time defending
